The kitchen is made of granite slabs that are specially brushed and fired. All complemented with appliances from the company Gaggenau. A glass staircase is accompanied by a glass handrail, glass doors with retarders give light to stand out in the various angles of incidence on the natural materials used in the property. Built-in light bars in the interiors, illuminated staircase, illuminated conservatory with ready whirlpool makes the interior a unique space. The illuminated granite wall in the living area of the house is made with the same technology as the onyx wall in Villa Tugendhat. Everything is acoustically connected and awaiting the installation of Bang Olufsen speakers. The bathrooms are also made to a high standard, glass or Corian washbasins are available. The shower cubicle in the main bathroom consists of glass tube with connection to a light source. The furnishings are already fitted in the house or ready for installation.
